CITY PRIMARIES

Murphy, Marchand, Miskella
and Warnock Nominated
for Aldermen

Keyes, Pearson, Lyla, Crowley, MacKenzie and Monahan for the School Board

Quietest Caucus in History
of the City—Representative Murphy High Man

After a spiritless campaign and one of the most quiet in the history of municipal politics, Dennis A. Murphy, George E. Marchand, James E.
Miskella and Francis A. Warnock
were yesterday nominated aldermen
to be candidates for election to the municipal council on Dec. 10.
At the same time the following were nominated for the school committee: Julian E. Keyes, Gardner
W. Pearson, William L. Crowley,
James E. Lyle, Charles E. MacKenzie
and Stephen P. Monahan.
The feature of the nomination results was the rejection of Commissioner George H. Brown as a candidate for re-election and the fact that Commissioner Francis A. Warnack was not a candidate.

PRIV. CHARLES SIMPSON
IS LOWELL BOY

Private Charles Simpson, whose name
was contained in last evening's casualty list as being slightly wounded in action, but whose address was given as 347 Main street, Concord Junction, is really a Lowell boy and had lived in this city for some time before entering the national service. His home is at 112 Chapel street, where his wife and a six months' old son, whom he has never seen, now live.
Private Simpson is a member of Co.
D of the 104th Infantry, formerly the 5th Sixth. He entered the service May 29, 1917. He had repeatedly tried to enlist in a Lowell company but was rejected because he was not a native
born. He was, however, accepted in the 104th, and is now in the front lines of the Sixth regiment, later being transferred to his present unit.
His wife recently received a letter
from him in which he stated that he was recovering rapidly from his wounds.

Express train service in France suspended for ten days because 30 per cent
of engineers and firemen had "German sympathy."

PLANS LONG STAY

Pres. Wilson to Remain in France to Organize World
Peace League

To End All War and Secure
True Freedom of the Seas
by Binding Agreement

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Democrat
senators who conferred with President Wilson last night for two hours left
the White House with the impression that the President now plans to remain in France indefinitely, or at least until the major portion of the work
of the peace conference has been completed.

The president was understood to be especially interested in the application, in the framing of the treaty, of the principle of the freedom of the seas, which he enunciated in his 14
terms and on which the allies, in agreement to discuss peace with Germany,
have reserved the right of freedom of
action at the peace conference.

To Govern from Embassies
The plan for a League of Nations
was another subject to which the president was said to have given much study. He was understood to regard

GERMANY STILL ACTIVE

Trying to Destroy Unity of Allies, Says Sir Geo. Cave
—Allied With Bolshevism

LONDON, Tuesday, Nov. 19.—Sir George Cave, who recently resigned as secretary of state for the home department in the Lloyd George cabinet and was elevated to the peerage, said in the house of lords tonight that although there was a pause in hostilities, the enemy's activities had not ceased.
"Germany has already begun to try to destroy the unity of the allies and our unity at home," he said. "I believe there is a close alliance between bolshevism and Germany. I have had evidence of this during the last week."
Regarding the press bureau, he said
no reason why it should be abolished.
He said that he saw, only the other day, press cables from Russia which were "obviously false and intended for propaganda purposes."
"We ought not to relinquish the weapons provided by the defense of the realm act for dealing with bolshevism,"
he said. "A bill continuing the allens act of 1914 should be introduced in the next parliament enabling the government to impose restrictions upon
the landing of enemy agents."

GREAT RECEPTION FOR BURGOMASTER MAX

BRUSSELS, Sunday, Nov. 17.—After 50 months of captivity in Germany, Burgomaster Max of Brussels came into his own again today.

The municipal council met to receive him at the Hotel de Ville, which was

Twenty German Submarines Turned Over to the Allies at Sunrise Today

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Twenty German submarines were surrendered to Rear Admiral Reginald W. Tyrwhitt, 30 miles off Harwich this morning, at sunrise, according to a press association despatch. These are the first U-boats to be turned over to the allies.

Admiral Tyrwhitt received the surrender of the German craft on board his flagship, a British cruiser.

The surrendered submarines will proceed to Harwich in charge of their own crews. They will then be boarded by British crews and interpreters and proceed to Parkston quay, nearby. The Germans will leave the submarines there and board transports for their return to Germany.

Twenty additional submarines will be surrendered on Thursday and 20 more on Friday. The remainder of the U-boats to be handed over in accordance with the armistice terms will be given up later.

Harwich has one of the best harbors on the east coast of England.
It is in the county of Essex, northeast of London.

Bolshevik Forces Along the Dvina
Bombarding Russo-Allied Positions

ARCHANGEL, Thursday, Nov. 14. (By the Associated Press.)—
The bolshevik forces along the Dvina, their infantry attack having been repulsed, today were bombarding the Russo-allied positions on the left bank of the river at Tulgas. The allied artillery is replying vigorously.

Since late in September, the bolsheviks have been trying stubbornly
but fruitlessly, to drive the allied forces up the Dvina to north of its junction with the Vega. The small amount of ice in the river at this time of the year is helping the enemy gunboats. The bolsheviks apparently possess a large number of river craft on which to mount naval guns brought from Petrograd.

Western Union and Postal Companies
Merged Under Government Control

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Consolidation of the services of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies, under government control, was announced today by Postmaster General Burleson, effective Dec. 1 next.

The following order was issued:
"In order that the telegraph companies may be used to the fullest extent and the transmission of messages expedited, the telegraph systems shall hereafter be operated as one and effective Dec. 1, 1918, all telegraph offices shall accept for transmission all classes of messages now accepted by anyone of them at the prescribed tariff rates."

Sec. Daniels Declares Naval Expansion by the United States Should Continue

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Continued naval expansion by the United States without regard at present for possible decisions of the peace conference, the formation of a league of nations or reduction of armament, was recommended to congress today by Secretary Daniels at a private conference with the house naval committee, which is framing
the 1920 naval appropriation bill.

Discussion with the secretary largely concerned the league of nations and disarmament, called for in President Wilson's peace principles. Mr. Daniels insisted that construction should proceed because these questions were for future settlement and no one can foresee the decision.

MISSING SINCE MONDAY

Walter Barrett's Relatives
Fear That Some Harm Has Come to Him

Walter Barrett, an employee of the United States Cartridge Co., and residing at 315 Fairmount street, has been reported to the police as missing since Monday night. It is feared that something has happened to him for he was not in the habit of staying away from home.

According to the story told the police this morning, Barrett, who was employed nights at the ammunition factory, had been brooding since the signing of the armistice that he might lose his job at the shop, and he is reported as having made remarks somewhat alarming. Monday evening he left for his work, but did not report at the shop and nothing has been seen of him since.

Barrett is 30 years of age, about 5
feet and 10 inches tall and weighs between 160 and 170 pounds. He is of medium complexion, has dark brown hair with a little mixture of gray and when he left his home he wore his working clothes with collar and dark
tie, summer union suit and a black derby. Any information concerning his whereabouts will be thankfully received by the family at 315 Fairmount street.

Later, many prominent citizens and officers of the allied armies were present. Burgomaster Max was loudly cheered when he entered the hall and took his seat at the aldermen's table.
Acting Burgomaster Le Monier welcomed him with a flattering address
and formally relinquished the burgomaster's seat to him.

Ukrainian Government Has Been
Overturned and Kiev Captured

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 20.—The Ukrainian government has been overturned and Kiev has been captured by troops from Astrakhan, according to Kiev despatches to Swedish newspapers. The Ukrainian national assembly has fled and a provisional government has been established by the captors of the city, who are apparently commanded by General Denikine, leader of the anti-bolshevik forces.

The Ukraine became a republic after the overthrow of the Kerensky government in November, 1917. There was much fighting there, resulting in the defeat of the bolsheviks. The Ukrainian government made peace with Germany at Brest-Litovsk, a few days before the Russian bolsheviks agreed to the German terms. Austro-German troops then entered the Ukraine for the purpose of carrying out economic articles of the peace treaty.

The Ukrainian government was overthrown last May and General Sko-ropadsky became dictator under the title of hetman, but he has had difficulty in maintaining order, although assisted by the Austro-Germans.

General Denikine was formerly commander of the Russian armies on the southwestern front. Previous to that he had been chief of staff of the Russian armies.

News Pleases Washington
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Reports of the overthrow of the Ukrainian government by General Denikine's anti-Bolshevik troops was received here today
with satisfaction. Officials said it would make the work of the allies in handling the Russian problem much more simple.

It has been believed for some time
that General Alexieff, the former Russian commander-in-chief, has a large force of Cossacks operating in Astrakhan. News from the Ukraine seems to confirm this. General Denikine is a member of Alexieff's army. He is an able officer, who has the confidence
of his men and of government officials in the allied countries.

It is pointed out that with the Cossacks, many of whom are Ukrainians
in charge, it will be easy to reach Russian Europe with supplies and necessary munitions by way of the Black sea, which is now open to the allies.

ing cheers for the greatest flag in the world, and they were given with a
will, not forgetting an enthusiastic
"tiger" at the end. And then as the flag slowly crept up the staff which had been erected atop the Bunting plant, accompanied by a large American flag, the crowd again burst into
the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Mr. Brown then called for three cheers for our country, and followed this with three cheers for Wilson and the boys "over there." The crowd cheered itself hoarse, and the big whistles got into the game and added their notes of victory to the general enthusiastic din. The workers then returned to their tasks, all feeling that it had been well worth a drudging to have had a part in the event.

Among the officials of the company
who were present were Mr. Gerald Cahill, Mr. William Robertson, Mr. Lucien B. Horton, Major Joseph Legare and
the efficient chief of the company's police department, Martin Conway.

The two flags were beautiful in the extreme. The Stars and Stripes which accompanied the Victory pennant as it soared aloft measured 30 by 20, and the pennant itself, which was made of red and white silk, measured 10 by 24.
The committee responsible for the successful outcome of the affair was under the able direction of Chairman
John Shea.

Man Facing Murder Charge
Has Divorce Case Pending in
the Superior Court Here

Joseph Cordio and Francis Fari, the two suspects, who were arrested in connection with the murder of Louis
Fred Soulia, whose body was found buried in a shallow grave near his home in Billerica a couple of weeks ago, were arraigned before Justice Dubuque in superior court in East Cambridge yesterday afternoon and were asked to plead to a charge of murder.
The two defendants entered a plea of not guilty and their cases were continued, the date of the trial to be set
by Chief Justice Alken.

After the defendants entered a plea
of not guilty, Justice Dubuque appointed Lawyer Daniel J. Donahue of this city to defend Cordio, while Myer J.
Sawyer of Boston was appointed as Fari's counsel. Fari and Cordio were committed to the East Cambridge jail without bail. The state police are still working on clues which they hope will lead to the arrest of a third suspect.
It was learned today that Cordio has a case pending in the jury waived ses-

VICTORY FLAG RAISING AT CARTRIDGE PLANT

Lowering skies and a drizzling rain
failed to dampen the ardor of nearly 2000 patriotic employees of the United States Cartridge Co. today, as they gathered in the rear of the old Bunting
plant at the Lawrence street factory
to participate in the raising of the Victory flag, which had been bought by the employees of the commercial department.

The exercises commenced at 12.30
with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" under the leadership of Albert Edmund Brown, the music for which was furnished by members of the Salvation Army band. Mr. R. A.
Wentworth, assistant general superintendent then addressed the gathering
in the absence of the mayor, who had been expected to be on hand, but was unavoidably detained and unable to attend. Mr. Wentworth spoke briefly of the glorious events which have come to pass in the last few weeks, and paid a tribute to the employees of the commercial department who have shown their patriotism in such a splendid and fitting manner. This is the first Victory pennant to be raised in this city, he stated.

Mr. Brown then called for three rou-

LITTLE BOY KILLED

Wilfred Fournier Arraigned
in Police Court on Charge
of Manslaughter

Wilfred Fournier was arraigned in police court this morning on the charge
of manslaughter, and was held in the sum of $2000 for his appearance before the court on Dec. 4.
It is alleged that Clarence Mills,
aged seven years, son of Leo and Clara Mills of 230 Hale street, was almost instantly killed about 5.15 yesterday afternoon at Lincoln square, when he was struck and knocked down by Four-nier's machine. The boy was taken to St. John's hospital with a fractured skull but was dead when he reached there.

The automobile was owned by the firm of Fournier Bros. of Fitchburg
and was coming through Lincoln sq.
The Mills boy was trying to board an onbound Chelmsford street car and in doing so ran directly in front of the automobile, which knocked him to the ground. He was immediately taken into a nearby drug store, but it was seen at once that his injuries were too serious for ordinary treatment and the driver of the machine which struck him carried him to the hospital, but the boy died on the way. The body was removed to the undertaking rooms
of Young & Blake, in Prescott street.
Fournier is a native of Fitchburg, and resides on Ashburton street.

The case of Henry E. Reed, charged with the larceny of one yard of loam,
the property of Dennis J. Meagher, was continued until Nov. 27.

Peter Tavoularis was charged with being engaged in the lottery business
at his fruit store, which is located at the corner of Market and Dutton sts.
The officer testified that Peter was doing a flourishing business in this line last month, prizes of boxes of candies in particular being much in evidence. He was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $50, from which sentence he appealed.

The probation officer released 19
first-timers.

MOVIE PICTURE CASE IN SUPERIOR COURT

The case of Samuel Orbach, former owner of the Owl theatre in this city,
vs. The Paramount Pictures corporation, an action of tort by which the plaintiff seeks to recover for damages
as a result of alleged failure on the part of the corporation to furnish him
the first run high art films he had contracted for, and which resulted, so he alleges, in his going out of business,
which was started yesterday before Judge Hitchcock in the jury session of the superior court, was resumed this morning and according to indications
the case will not be brought to a close until tomorrow.

In the jury waived session of the superior court, Justice Wait presiding,
an out-of-town law case is being discussed. It was stated this morning that the divorce case was scheduled to open tomorrow, but owing to the many law cases to be disposed of it is very probable that the divorce session will not open until next week.

Piles of Thousands of Rifles,

Soldiers, Found

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION, Nov. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—Food supplies, ammunition and artillery are moving eastward
with the infantry and the American force is prepared for any eventuality.
The advance into Germany is regarded by both officers and men, however,
as nothing more than an ordinary march.
The latest reports indicate that the Germans are retreating in full compliance with the terms of the armistice.
It is reported that in some towns on the line of the enemy retreat, there are piles of thousands of rifles thrown down by German soldiers who declared
they would not fight any more regardless of the provocation.

STAVING ARREST OF
GOOD SPIRITS

Found—Four barrels of whiskey and one barrel of gin. Owner can claim goods by proving ownership at the police station.

Unless the owner of 200 gallons of intoxicating liquor, which was found in the Highlands district can be located within a short time it may be
that the police department will insert
the above advertisement in the local newspapers.

Some time last week, so it was learned this morning, Lieut. Petrie and Officers Clark and Winn of the vice squad were tipped off that there was a large quantity of liquor in a stable
in the Highlands district, the owner of which could not be located. Immediately the sleuths went out to the place indicated and there found four barrels of whiskey and one barrel of
gin. The liquor was immediately seized and removed to the station, but all efforts to find the owner have been fruitless. It is believed that the liquor was stored there in order to escape
the war tax on liquor and accordingly
the matter has been turned over to the federal authorities, who are now conducting an investigation.

NO PAPERS IN ROCHESTER

City Without Newspapers as Result of Strike of Allied Printing Trades Council

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 20.—Rochester was without local newspapers today as a result of a strike called by the allied printing trades council. Neither the Democrat and Chronicle, nor the Herald, morning papers, appeared, and the afternoon dailies, the Post-Express and Times-Union will not be published.

The printers' council rejected an award made by a board of arbitration, consisting of two representatives of the employers, two of the printers and a fifth member. The printers had demanded a scale of $35 a week for day work and $40 for night work. The arbitration board awarded $28 and $31, respectively. A settlement is not expected until officers of the international union arrive. Meanwhile, no attempt will be made to publish.

Last night the printers offered to compromise at $33 and $36 and gave the publishers until 5 o'clock to accept. The offer was rejected and the publishers agreed to insist on the arbitration board's award and not to attempt to publish.

The printers have established a picket cordon at the newspaper plants.

The meeting was called at 10.30 with Dr. Carroll absent. A questionnaire from the board of health of Santa Barbara, Cal., asking various questions as to how the local board handled the influenza epidemic and as to whether it was the opinion of the board that it had lifted the ban at the proper time, was received, and Frank J. O'Hare, secretary of the board, was instructed to reply to the questions asked and state that the board believed in the light of later developments that it had lifted the ban at precisely the proper time.

At this point the letter from the Lowell Corporation hospital trustees was read and Mr. Drury said that the isolation hospital would probably be open soon, but that much delay was

Women's Vote

Although 4347 Lowell women were entitled to vote for school committee candidates yesterday, only about a sixth of that number went to the polls, or a total of 1530.

The general lack of interest in the campaign and the fact that there had been very little discussion of school board candidates undoubtedly account for the meagre appearance of the fair sex.

Ward 3 brought out the largest number of female voters, 293. Ward 9, which has four precincts, brought forth 20 less women voters, or 273. Ward 8 was third with 231.

Precinct 3 of ward 3 was strongest with the ladies, 172 polling there. Precinct 1 of ward 8 had 140 women voters and precinct 2 of ward 1, 122.

LAND HAS BLOWN OVER—

QUEEN STAYS

LONDON, Tuesday, Nov. 19.—Latest diplomatic reports from Holland seem to indicate that the threatened revolution there has blown over. Crowds paraded the streets of The Hague yesterday wearing orange ribbons.

Reports which were unconfirmed, state that The Hague garrison supported Pieter J. Troelstra's demand that the queen abdicate. Queen Wilhelmina decided to comply, but the garrison afterwards laid down its arms in the presence of loyal troops from the provinces.

CONGREGATIONALISTS IN ANOTHER OUTBREAK OF INFLUENZA UNLIKELY

A large attendance was present today at the North Middlesex Congregational conference of Episcopalian and other Christian churches, which was held at All Souls church, formerly High Street church, and one of the addresses at the morning session was delivered by a former pastor of the High Street church, Rev. Dr. C. W. Huntington, now of Waltham, Mass.

Following the opening hymn, reports were read and new business was transacted. The first speaker was Rev. Dr. Paul Revera Frothingham, of the Arlington Street church, Boston. Rev. A. M. Ribbany of the Church of the Disciples, Boston, delivered an address on "The World After the War."

A devotional service conducted by Rev. George C. Wright, Free church, Lowell, was the closing number of the morning session and luncheon prepared by the ladies of the society was next in order.

The afternoon service was opened with music and singing. Then came the roll call of churches, committee reports and election of officers.

"What Churches are Doing," was the topic discussed by Rev. Joseph P. McCarthy of Waltham. The last feature of the afternoon's program was the conference of ministers and delegates. The speaker in this conference send delegates from the following cities and towns: Ashby, Ayer, Chelmsford, Dublin, N. H., Framsetown, N. H., Groton, Littleton, Lowell, Milford, N. H., Nashua, N. H., Pepperell, Peterborough, N. H., Shirley, Stow, Tyngsboro, Westford, West Townsend, Wilton, N. H., East Wilton, N. H.

The officers are: Thomas H. Elliott, Lowell, president; Warren G. Howe, Nashua, Mrs. Daniel Needham, Groton, H. F. Bincham, Ashby, Nath. A. Shattuck, Pepperell, vice-presidents; Rev. George C. Wright, Lowell, secretary; Joseph A. Harwood, Littleton, treasurer.

FIRES AND EXPLOSIONS

IN BRUSSELS

BRUSSELS, Nov. 20. (Havas).—Fire in the east central portions of Brussels resulting from explosions at the Midi station lasted eight hours and all the buildings in the streets nearest the station are in ruins. The regions near the station have been evacuated in a radius of more than one mile.

WORK FOR PARTIALLY

DISABLED SOLDIERS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20. Partially disabled soldiers and other service men will be employed to fill vacancies in the Emergency Fleet corporation, according to Charles Fiez, vice president and general manager of the corporation.

"Wherever it is possible," he said, "we will fill places with partially disabled soldiers and service men as the vacancies occur. Many of them are excellent mechanics and would fill places in the yards first rate. Of course all depends on the state of the disability and the mental equipment of the soldiers. It ought not to be at all difficult to work out a plan to find profitable employment for these men in all the shipyards of the country."

WANTS PEACE DELEGATES TO SEE

DEVASTATION COMMITTED

BY GERMANS

PARIS, Nov. 20. (Havas).—All the delegates to the peace conference should be asked to visit the departments of France invaded by the Germans and see for themselves the damage and devastation committed by the enemy, declared Raul Poret, president of the budget commission of the chamber of deputies, and Deputy Louis Dubois.

GENERAL INCREASES IN

EXPRESS RATES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—General increases in express rates were announced today by Director General McAdoo of the railroad administration.

East of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers, the new rates on merchandise will be about 16 and 17 cents a hundred pounds more than at present. The increase on food rates will be about 75 per cent as much.

WANT REPRESENTATIVE OF

FARMERS AS DELEGATE TO

PEACE CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—President Wilson was asked today by the Farmers' national headquarters to appoint a representative of the agricultural interests of the country as a delegate to the peace conference. He also is requested to ask "all belligerent and at least the largest neutral nations to appoint delegates to a peace congress which shall sit simultaneously with the peace conference of accredited delegates at the same place."

DR. MASARYK, PRESIDENT OF NEW

CZECHO-SLOVAKIA RE-

PUBLIC, SALES

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Dr. Thomas G. Masaryk, first president of the newly created republic of Czecho-Slovakia, called for Liverpool today on the British steamship Carmania. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Olga. He expects to go to Prague to assume office and later to attend the peace conference.

UNION ST. JEAN BAPTISTE

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 20.—Nomination of officers and discussion of proposed by-law changes consumed both sessions of the national congress of the Union St. Jean Baptiste, here, today, with prospects that elections will be deferred until evening. The candidates for president include Joseph Lussier of Holyoke, E. L. Talbot of Woonsocket, R. L. F. Gattineau of Southbridge and Henry T. Ledoux of Nashua, N. H., the incumbent. Rivalry is keen but good natured.

SAVING OF FRUIT PITS AND NUT-

SHELLS IS NO LONGER

NECESSARY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Saving of fruit pits and nut shells is no longer necessary. The chemical warfare section of the United States army today informed the food administration that the supply of fruitpits and nutshells now on hand was sufficient to meet the requirements for gasmasks.

HIGH SCHOOL REGIMENT

The list of officers of the Lowell high school regiment for 1918-19 will be announced tomorrow. According to Principal Herbert P. Risley, examinations for the various offices were held several weeks ago.

BILLERICA'S CAMPAIGN
Although on Monday night, the reports compiled showing Billerica's share in the united campaign, were $100 short of the quota of $7200 which had been assigned to the town, the general committee on the drive are convinced that at the meeting in the town hall at the centre which will be held tonight, it will be found that the closing tabulation will show at least $8000.

The Boston and Maine car shop employees had much to do with boosting the local drive, the total subscriptions from the workers at this plant amounting to about $2250. A thousand dollar subscription from the Talbot mills was another of the large subscriptions reported.

Billerica is going to get into the contest for naming a ship as indicated by a letter which has been sent by Thomas Talbot Clark, chairman of the Billerica loan committee, to James McNeill of the state committee. The letter follows:

Mr. James McNeill, 19 Congress street, Boston, Mass.
Dear Sir:—
We submit the following final report in the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign in Billerica, Mass.: Population 1910, census 2782; quota, $175,000; number of subscribers, 2108; amount of subscriptions, $259,950; percentage of population subscribed 75.5 per cent.

Please enter this town in the contest of naming a ship.

Yours very truly,
THOMAS TALBOT CLARK.

AWAITING SHIPMENT

Wine, Wickerwork, Etc., Piled Up at Funchal

LONDON, Nov. 12.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Thousands of cases of wine and great quantities of wickerwork and hand-made embroideries have accumulated at Funchal, awaiting shipment.

The inhabitants are unable to earn enough money to keep themselves properly fed. Present supplies are entirely inadequate because of the lack of ships. Communication is reduced to one steamer monthly. Normally Madeira imports 50 per cent. of her food-stuffs.

MARSHAL PETAIN GREETED AT METZ

METZ, Nov. 20.—(Havas).—When Marshal Petain entered this city yesterday, he stood before the statues of Marshal Ney and reviewed his soldiers. The municipality and local societies welcomed the marshal at the city hall, and the mayor greeted him at the cathedral, where Te Deums were sung. A profusion has been established by French Commissioner Trianon. General Mangin has issued a proclamation.

ETHEL CLAYTON

—IN—

"The Girl Who Came Back"

If a man breaks into a house at dead o' night he expects, if discovered, to meet with a pretty hot reception. But if the crackman sends his pretty daughter instead and the son of the house comes down in his dressing gown and finds the intruder's slender fingers toying with the family pearls, what's the upshot then, particularly if the girl is as attractive as Ethel Clayton?
A great scene? You BET!

VICTORY CELEBRATION AT SPALDING HOUSE

A Victory celebration was held yesterday afternoon at the Spalding house, the home of Molly Varum chapter, by the three local chapters of the D.A.R. A well filled house, an enthusiastic audience and a patriotic spirit prevailed. Mrs. C. E. Howe was in charge of arrangements, and the "Star Spangled Banner" marked the opening number. Soloist, Mrs. F. L. Roberts. Rev. A. R. Hussey delivered a patriotic address.

"Today," he said, "America stands before the world more than ever before as a world power. We stand shoulder to shoulder with the nations which are supporting civilization, working for the kingdom of God throughout the world. Our horizons have been pushed back; we interpret life now in terms of the universe. Our motives in entering the conflict were unselfish. We fought in obedience to a heavenly vision. Henceforth, not only in this land but in all lands beneath the sun, that flag has a fresher loveliness. Our name means more today to the races of humankind than ever it meant before. We have made common cause. For these things that have been accomplished, we may indeed thank God.

Look Young or Lose Your Job

Your employer regards your gray, streaked with gray or faded hair with suspicion. It is a sign of age, wanting powers, inability to think and work quickly. It handicaps you. Sooner or later someone younger will get your job.

Get rid of the gray in your hair. You can do it with the Q-ban hair color. Restorer. Q-ban will bring back all the youthful dark color and gloss. More than that, Q-ban is an excellent scalp stimulant, eradicates dandruff and gives new life and vigor to the hair.

Q-ban is guaranteed not a dye. It won't stain the scalp, wash or rub out, and does not prevent shampooing or waving. Easily applied. Begin the use of this delightful (oil) restorer tonight. It will take years from your looks.

The makers of Q-ban have been known for a generation as specialists in the treatment of the hair. Sold in all reliable drug stores everywhere on money-back guarantee. Price 75c.—Adv.

WILSON'S DECISION

President Wilson has yielded to the importunities from Europe and decided to attend the opening of the peace congress. While we did not believe that it would be wise for the president to attend, we admit that he is the best judge of what he should do under the circumstances. He is in communication with the premiers of France, England and Italy, and they are all undoubtedly anxious to have him attend at least the opening session of the congress in order that they may have the benefit of his views as to the best method of settling the more difficult problems to come before the congress.

Never before did any international congress have to deal with matters of such universal importance as those awaiting the coming peace conference. The question of new forms of government, the decision between republics and monarchies, new nations rising on the ruins of the old, the establishment of national boundaries, the safeguarding of international rights on the high seas, the rehabilitation of the war-ravaged countries—these and many other questions must be passed upon by the coming peace congress.

The president in his various speeches outlining the character of the peace that he approves, has laid down certain principles of international justice which the allied governments have very largely accepted. There are, however, some points upon which the president's position needs elucidation and this the president can give more effectively in person than he could by cable.

Moreover, it must be remembered that conditions have changed since the president made his various speeches outlining the terms of peace so that some of the policies laid down may require a change to meet the new conditions.

President Wilson, who has borne the responsibility during the war and has shown such consummate statesmanship, is well qualified to direct the peace congress along the lines that are best calculated to secure just settlements, justice for small nationalities, and provisions that will guarantee universal peace.

President Wilson has already placed himself on record as against any economic boycott, except as a weapon to be used by a league of nations against states that might violate the international peace compact. He would not sanction any such proposition as that suggested by Senator Lodge to have a notification sign placed in every store in which German goods are sold. That would mean an economic boycott which the government cannot afford to countenance. We are rather surprised to find Mr. Lodge making such a suggestion. There will be no sentiment in this country for many years in favor of purchasing German goods, but the government cannot enter into any arrangement by which it would sanction the exclusion of the products of Germany or any other nation. It will impose a protective tariff and enforce it against all alike. The president has on more than one occasion expressed his disapproval of anything resembling discrimination against any power after the terms of peace shall have been duly ratified.

In view of the conflicting interests of the various nations both on the side of the allies and that of the central powers, there can be no doubt that the presence of President Wilson at the conference will have a powerful influence with the various delegations. He will undoubtedly be accorded a most enthusiastic reception wherever he goes, and though his stay will be brief, it will be productive of far-reaching results, not only for this nation but for the entire world.

As to his going out of the country the president is fully within his rights. He simply disregards an old custom but he has put aside many such customs while reviving others more worthy. He dispensed with the inaugural ball, which must have been a source of great annoyance to every president, but he revived the healthy custom of going in person before congress to deliver his messages. In this he has established a precedent that his successors in office will find very difficult to ignore.

WAGES AND STANDARDS

The nation will approve the action of Chairman Hurley of the shipping board in his effort to standardize wages and working conditions on the merchant ships of different nations. The object is a very laudable one; but there are a great many obstacles in the way. One of these is, that the rate of wages paid in the United States is more than double that paid in some of the other countries. It is doubtful whether the other nations will be willing to come up to the American standard and it is quite certain that the Americans will not be willing to go down to theirs.

In spite of every attempt to keep up wages and prices at the present level, there will be a gradual reduction as a result of the return to peace conditions. A large increase in wages granted by the government and by war work industries together with the vast loans contracted by the government, have resulted in a degree of inflation of the currency, which must gradually disappear.

Unless the products of our manufacturing can be sold at a figure that will have some relation to their intrinsic value in the markets of the world, we shall find it very difficult to secure enough foreign trade to keep our merchant marine profitably engaged. No doubt we could import large quantities of foreign products; but the aim is rather to export our own products than to assist foreign countries in flooding our domestic markets with theirs. There are many very important questions ahead that will require sound judgment and perhaps a year or more to solve properly. There is no reason why we should not command a large portion of the trade of the world; but with the present high prices we cannot do so in competition with other countries.

Some people tell us that prices will not come down, that they must be kept up. We do not believe there is any power in this notion that can keep the prices very long at the present high level. When the price of beefsteak reaches seventy-five cents per pound and when clothing costs perhaps twice as much as two years ago, it does not seem that there should be any great desire to keep prices so very high. High wages will not benefit the laboring man under such conditions. He is not any better off now than he was when wages were 50% lower than they are today. His wages then probably secured more of the necessities of life than do his high wages. Thus it all comes down to the purchasing power of the dollar. When we go into foreign markets we get more for our dollars but we are obliged to trade at home. For these reasons we surmise that Chairman Hurley will meet with many insuperable difficulties in the task he has undertaken, although it is one which is most worthy and desirable.

GERMAN SQUEALERS

German officials are showing considerable effrontery in writing notes to one or other of the allied powers suggesting a mitigation of the terms of armistice or more favorable consideration than can be accorded to the other powers which were associated with Germany in the war. Germany should be led to understand that her needs will receive no more attention than those of the other nations associated with her in the war. Bulgaria, Austria, Turkey are all as badly off, if not worse, than is Germany, but they are not making such a howl. The German people have not experienced the ravages of war within their own country and there is nothing to prevent them from supporting themselves unless their means of transportation should be taken away. The allies have no intention of crippling their transportation facilities to any such extent. The object in asking for 150,000 freight cars was to remove the possibility of transporting troops and thereby to make it impossible for Germany to resume hostilities. So far as the means of subsistence is concerned, Germany is not so badly off as several of the countries that she has ravaged with war. The old intrigues and the deceptive methods of diplomacy are still applied in Germany, and it will be necessary for the allies to investigate her claims for relief and the various pretexts on which Dr. Solf claims favorable consideration at the hands of the allies.

OVER THE TOP AGAIN

Lowell has once more demonstrated her patriotism by going over the top in the War Work drive to raise $300,000. There has never been a case of raising funds for any charitable or benevolent purpose in which the people generally have shown such liberality as in the present instance. They have proved their patriotism in the most unmistakable manner. They are willing to do anything within reason for the boys over there. The local corporations led the way with magnificent contributions, several of them reaching the $10,000 mark. The corporation that donates a sum of that amount or even of a much less amount, for patriotic purposes, cannot be said to be without a soul.

The local merchants and business men did their full duty in this drive, as indeed did the working people and all the families throughout the city. The teams in charge of collecting and canvassing worked very hard and much of the credit for the success of the drive is due to their untiring efforts.

The drive has been successful also in the country at large and the total of $170,500.00 has been exceeded. The fact has been demonstrated that when the Y.M.C.A., the Knights of Columbus, the Jewish society, the Salvation Army and the Y.W.C.A. combine for a patriotic or benevolent purpose, they can unite the entire country and win success for any good cause. It is to be hoped that the united effort of these organizations in the present instance is but the first of many cases in which they will join hands for the honor of the United States and the uplift of humanity.

In the past much power has been attributed to the newspapers but it seems as if the limit had been reached. The hardest thing not to get inflated over, so far as members of the Fourth Estate are concerned, is the statement of Major Dr. Eugene Crockett of Boston, of the American Red Cross, who has returned from first hand knowledge of recent events in the war zone, and says that it was the power of the press which brought the great war to an end—the publication of President Wilson's message that he had recognized Czechoslovakia as an independent power.

Mayor Hyman of New York has shown a good deal of presumption in inviting Marshal Foch to visit that metropolis. Mayor Hyman should know that if Marshal Foch should come to this country, he would be the guest of the government first and probably all during his stay.

The reception Marshal Foch would get in this country would be rivaled only by that which President Wilson will receive in France. It is highly gratifying to find that there is such a strong bond of friendship between these two republics.

We ought not to have any feeling of pity or leniency towards Germany when we read all this stuff being printed about her government now wishing the terms of the armistice to be "softened." If the conditions were reversed, who imagines Germany would be soft? Was she soft towards France when she stole two provinces and made every Frenchman take gold out of the stocking in the cupboard? Can any of us forget that one theory of the Germans is, that if arms fail to win a victory, diplomacy ought to be successfully invoked?

The suggestion of Chairman Marland of the public service commission that the situation is so bad, in regard to the affairs of the Bay State road that the commission may have to allow the road to put the 10 cent fare into operation for experimental purposes, will probably not meet with approval from any quarter except the Bay State. The idea of testing out a new poison on a man to see if it is poison, goes too much against accepted rules of science.

It looks as if they were going to junk the Junkers in Germany and perhaps junk the Kaiser. "Junk," as here used, is a trade expression meaning turning a product into such shape that when used again a new start has to be made. The most ironical thing though—and no pun is intended—is that iron crosses in Germany now are being freely sold for the equivalent of one cent each. We can imagine how many of these crosses will be handed down as heirlooms.

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES? TRY THIS

If you are growing hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears, go to your drugist and get 1 ounce of Parment (double strength), and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dripping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with Catarrhal Deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv.

The Truth at Last

"My dear, you know there is nothing I hate more than a domestic scene." "Well, then, John Henry Dubwaite, why do you conduct yourself in a way that forces me to create a domestic scene?" "What have I done?" "Nothing. That's just it. You've said 'Yes, my dear,' to me so many times I'm sick and tired of hearing it. Why don't you lose your temper occasionally. Throw things around, slam the door, kick the cat! Threaten to choke me! For once in your life do something to convince me that I'm married to a red-blooded man and not a spine-

Brotherhood of Boltermakers. Iron Shipbuilders and Helpers, to start a strike at the great Victory government shipbuilding plant at Squantum, outside Boston, sound drill. At any day a message might come from Washington to junk this plant. A strike at this time when all conditions are trying for all concerned, probably cannot bring good luck for the Victory plant workers.

It is doubtful if Sen. Weeks' plea that the 25th division be brought home from France first, will have much of any weight with the administration at Washington. While the administration is, of course, considerably above such frailty, it would be only human if the officials remembered it was so easy for the democrats to defeat Weeks that what he asks for need not be given extraordinary consideration.

Congratulations even to Count Hohenzoellern's wife, once Kaiserin of Germany. She flew to her lord and master in an airplane. Following the rule of the average German's attitude towards his humble spouse, she had never been allowed to give vent to her emotion and "go up in the air" before.

SEEN AND HEARD

Senator Penrose considers the League of Nations a "novel idea, probably a vicious free trade plot." The league idea is certainly less novel than Penrose's idea of it.

With dovetail co-operation familiar of old, the Hun military pillages the French while the Hun propaganda wireless walls for sympathy. The Hun never left their left hand (the socialist party) know what their right hand (the military party) is stealing.

The peace treaty will have to be ratified by a republican senate. But, since the peace treaty will be history's most complicated document, the product of perhaps a year's hard labor, it's doubtful whether a senate of any political complexion would refuse ratification.

The Bolshevik government has offered to let the Czechoslovak troops return home. If they will lay down their arms, the Czechoslovaks once before, and then cut loose on them with machine guns.

In Somewhat of a Hurry

The troop train had just pulled into the station. A big, husky negro stuck his head out of the car window and shouted:

"Say, boss, what town you-all call dis?"

"This is Accotink."

"And, boss what state is dis?"

"Virginia; Accotink Virginia."

"Well, well, ah dun been travellin' on dis yere train foah days and foah nights. Where do debbil am dis yere France, anyhow?"—Everybody's Magazine.

Try It on Toast

Serve toast for breakfast tomorrow, but instead of using high-priced butter, buy a pound of Bonett Brand "Sweet Nut" Margarine at 22c. Let it soak in water. You'll be surprised how the folks "go in" for this new toast. Don't get scared at the name "Margarine," because this new table delicacy doesn't contain a particle of animal fat—just the nutritious part of pure white coconut meats churned with milk. It has the same nutritive value and looks and tastes just like butter when served. But costs about half as much. Makes a delicious spread on toast, bread, biscuits, Johnny cakes, etc. "Sweet Nut" Margarine satisfies every table requirement—children often prefer it. Sold only at the Direct Importing Co.'s store, 81 Merrimack street, Lowell, up one flight, where Bonett Brand Tens, Coffee and Grocery specialties are retailed at wholesale prices. Typical American Soldier

The selection of Corp. Jack Marqusee, son of Julius Marqusee, as special courier, attached to the headquarters staff of Major General O'Ryan, entrusted with the grave responsibility of safely conveying messages to and from the battle line, was an early-won distinction, which stamped him as a soldier of more than ordinary intelligence and daring. The more recent distinction of being selected among the two million American fighting men, now across the seas, by an artist of international fame, to pose for a representative portrait of a typical American soldier, to be hung in the permanent gallery of the French nation, is a tribute to his remarkable physical perfection. A perfect specimen of young American manhood with all that that term implies is a fairly satisfactory description of the buoyant young member of Uncle Sam's fighting forces. Just past 21 in years, young Marqusee stands six feet, two inches tall and, sans adornment, tips the scales at 220 pounds.

To His Small Boy

Good little chum
Of the trumpet and drum
Who are still in the pop-gun years.
Are popping too near,
For they pop at your pop, he hears.
They are telling him so,
They are letting him know,
As they're popping around his ears.

"Most every night
When the moon is bright,
I call to the man up there
On all of the maps.
Way up in the skies
Can look around everywhere,
So look at the chaps
On all of the maps.
And answer me fair and square:
Do you see any one
To match my son?
Just answer me that, if you dare!
And not one word
Have I ever heard
Of a hint in his golden stars
That his beams ever shine
On a boy like mine.
For there's none, none, none to compare.

O, if you were here
I would give a year
Of my life for your borish kiss.
But I'll willingly give
All I hope to live
To hold you away—from this.

Getting a Magazine

When you have at last discovered the particular magazine for which you have been searching you will find it lying on its side with a lot of other magazines on a top shelf. It will always be the bottom one.

Be calm. Do not go out and borrow from your neighbor the stepladder that really belongs to you, but which he has had so long he firmly believes he owns it, and do not then lift the top magazine off and, putting it in a safe place, lift the next one, and go on until the one you want is at hand.

This would take too much time, and in these days time is more than money. It is coal, eggs and meat. Besides if you pursued this method your wife would appear upon the scene before you were through and spoil it all by her temperate and unsympathetic remarks.

No! Grab the first chair there is—a cane-seated one if possible, as it isn't so hard on your feet, and if you fall

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' discovered Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath, a dull, tired feeling, sick headache, torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

it may afford a pleasant break. Grab this chair, vault upon it lightly, and then catch that bottom magazine at its corners with both hands, and swiftly yank it out from all the others.

Above all things, hang on to the magazine. When a few minutes later your wife, assisted by the parlor maid is trying to pry the debris you will have experienced a sort of desperate revenge by exclaiming, as you turn turning its pages and the horrible truth dawns upon you: "The cursed article I want is not, after all, in this number."—Life.

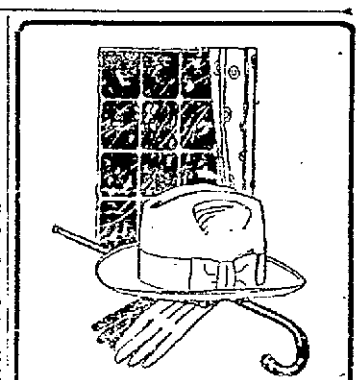

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Well, the municipal primaries have come and gone. No man ought to feel he can criticize anything that was done yesterday unless he did his duty and went to the polls and voted. Each man's vote is a contribution to good city government or bad city government. If he has poor judgment and votes for a man who hasn't any potential or proven ability as a city executive, he has made a contribution to poor city rule and he and his neighbors will suffer from it. If a voter goes to the polls and the candidates on the ballot mean nothing more to him than a string of names and he goes ahead and votes on the "yes-no, yes-no" plan, he has no one to blame for it but himself. Every voter can inform himself as to a candidate's record. Our 5669 citizens who have had to unavoidably be absent from this city for some months now attending to the business of stopping the spread of German "kintur" (and doing a swell job) will be returning home sooner than we expected. There is every prospect that next fall Lowell will take steps to carry on the city's business under the law known as Plan B charter. In the meantime, if after reflection, you decide you showed poor judgment yesterday, in voting for the men you did, resolve not to be guilty of the same when the final election takes place Dec. 10. It isn't always we have so good a chance to get on the right track again.

One of the most unfortunate towns in the vicinity of Lowell I know of in the matter of the Bay State abandoning service for the winter, or longer, is Tyngsboro. I shall be sorry for the Tyngsboro people for they are good folks up there. I should think the Bay State would be ashamed to peremptorily abandon its service to a town like that and leave the town stranded, so to speak. Only a few Nashua-Lowell trains stop at Tyngsboro. Tyngsboro must suffer Dec. 1, if the Bay State carries out its threat, depend on shanks' mare or the kindness of such persons who have autos and travel with a spare seat or two. I understand there is a sort of jitney service maintained between North Chelmsford and Tyngsboro, but it isn't as good a service as could be desired. I know that Tyngsboro comes in under the provisions of that invitation Receiver Donham publicly extended, that if selection of towns wished to hold conference with him with the idea of extending financial help to the road of whose affairs he is temporarily custodian, he would be glad to sit in with them. I cannot imagine a transportation company being in a more humiliating position than where it is forced to publicly acknowledge its management is so poor and that it falls so far short of earning its expenses, that it invites the communities where it operates to throw it some of their spare money. I have something happens to help Tyngsboro in this threatened situation.

I hope it will turn out that the water department has got sand enough to fill up this thing I am going to tell it. It needs sand or gravel or cinders or some good sidewalk making material, for sure. The water department has charge of and maintains what I can tell is quite a pretty little cash air breathing spot in summer, a bloody street between Gardner avenue and Gershom avenue. It hasn't put in some seats among other things, and made a pretty little spot of it. It was a nice thing for the water department to do. But on the sidewalk fronting this place there is about a hundred feet of sidewalk that in wet weather reminds all persons compelled to go through that part of the city, of Venice. There are hollows and holes in this stretch of sidewalk which fill with water after every big and little rain-storm and I am told persons can only use the sidewalk at risk of wet feet, hard colds, influenza, pneumonia and final dissolution. It seems as if it would be a slight matter and not much expense to fix this.

Every newspaper office expects, now that the war is over, that its telephone and the resources it provides, will be the court of first resort in the case of persons who get involved in arguments over dates and happenings connected with the great war. This is bound to be universally the case. While the newspapers may be ready to give ready information upon leading dates, there is no newspaper in the world that can give all the facts of the late war. Its full history will never be written. Men who could have written some of its best chapters are in their graves and have taken their experience with them.

ERAN OF CIVIL AND SPANISH-AMERICAN WARS, DEAD

NEW YORK Nov. 19.—Rear Admiral Arthur Bayard Speyers, U.S.N., retired, of this city, a veteran of the Civil and Spanish-American wars, died yesterday in a hospital in Montreal after an operation, according to word received here last night.

In the war with Spain, he commanded the U.S.S. Caesar during the blockade of Cuba and the battle in which the Spanish fleet was destroyed off Santiago. Later he went to the Philippines in command of the U.S.S. Albatross.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK CROSS, FEVERISH

When Constipated or Bilious Give "California Syrup of Figs"

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, restless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs." and in a few hours all the foul and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "Fruit Laxative," they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

ROLL OF HONOR

—IN THE—

City Directory

The Roll of Honor carried in the Lowell Directory of 1918 will be enlarged to include those who have gone into war service since that Roll was compiled.

For patriotic and historical reasons this list should be complete. It is appropriate it should be bound into the City Directory, which is the annual record of the city's life, where it may always be found and consulted by present and future generations. The publishers request your co-operation to this end.

Pastors of churches, officers of lodges, and corporations and employers, are asked to send in their individual Rolls of Honor, and relatives and friends of those in the service are requested to send in the names of such as they may know. The publishers are especially eager to receive such names as would not be found on local lists, such as the local draft board lists and recruiting station lists. This would include the names of such as have enlisted in the Canadian and British armies, or in other armies, in the various college units, in the Red Cross, in Y. M. C. A. and K. of C. work, etc.

Your help in compiling this information is a duty to the absent and is for the honor of Lowell. Please be prompt.

WAR DEPARTMENT PUTS LOGAN MATTER UP TO PERSHING

BOSTON, Nov. 20.—Inquiry made by Governor McCall regarding the removal of Colonel Edward L. Logan from command of the 101st Infantry brought reply yesterday from the war department that the matter is one which comes entirely within the province of General Pershing and that the Washington office "has no information to the effect that Colonel Logan has been relieved of the command."

ROLL CALL AND SUPPER

The annual roll call and supper was held last night at the Chelmsford Street Baptist church, with an attendance of about 175 members. The supper committee provided a most enjoyable supper, which consisted of beans, brown bread, scalloped potatoes, salads, pie and coffee. The credit for the supper arrangements is due to the following: Mrs. F. H. Colburn, Mrs. Wil-

Are Advertised Medicines Worthless?

There is no more reason to condemn all advertised medicines than there is to condemn all physicians or all druggists. Purses are in every profession and in every trade, but they do not last long. Take a medicine like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the true test of its merit is the fact that for forty years it has been relieving women of America from the worst forms of female ailments, constantly growing in popularity and favor, until it is now recognized from ocean to ocean as the standard remedy for female ills.—Adv.

MATRIMONIAL ADS FILL GERMAN PAPERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Matrimonial ads have been supplied by marital need in Germany. This is evidenced by the advertising columns of German newspapers received here. Matrimonial "ads" cover whole pages and inserted by people of all ages and walks of life.

Many appeal for husbands or wives for relatives. Parents, brothers, sisters and even friends of those who seek mates invite correspondence from those matrimonially inclined. War invalids, wealthy physicians, manufacturers and rich widows are among those who resort to publicity.

One advertiser says he is a widower who has property amounting to several million marks. He admits he is 55 years of age, but says he "looks younger." A physician who has an annual income of 100,000 marks seeks to arrange a meeting with "a beautiful, stately woman, object matrimony."

Scarcity of tobacco in Germany is shown by the large number of advertisements offering to purchase cigars and cigarettes in any quantity offered.

That the Germans are preparing to embark on a large commercial campaign in the east is inferred from advertisements asking for salesmen to find purchasers for German products in Poland and Rumania. Other announcements request manufacturers to submit samples of articles which are "suitable for eastern countries."

CHELMSFORD ON THE JOB

As stated in yesterday's issue of The Sun, the town of Chelmsford again showed where it stands in the matter of helping "the boys" by not only reaching its quota of $6000 in the big over-the-top campaign now over, but went over the top with a handsome margin, the final figures giving the town credit for $5537.

The Victory Boys' and Girls' share in the success of the campaign should not be forgotten. About 211 boys and 234 girls 10 years old and over among the schools of the town did their bit and did it well.

Five schools, High, West, South, Chelmsford, South Row and Golden Cove were 100 per cent. perfect, which is to say, that every boy or girl in these schools 10 years of age or over, pledged at least a dollar each. The total was made up as follows: High, $485.50; Centre, $158; Princeton Street, $168.46; Highland avenue (incomplete), $20; West, $53.35; South, $16; East Chelmsford, $13; South Row, $8; Golden Cove, $3. Total, $5537.30.

North Chelmsford made good the pledge which it had made through Chairman James P. Dunigan, that it would match the rest of the town in subscriptions, and when the final reports were announced at the town hall at the close of the drive, this section of the town was found to have raised $4503.

Friends of Sergt. Leo Fox, Co. M, 101st Infantry, a resident of Golden Cove, Chelmsford, will be interested in hearing of the honor conferred upon him in general orders issued at the headquarters of the 35th division, A.E.F., in France on Aug. 31, by C. R. Edwards, major general commanding. In part the order reads: "The division commander takes great pleasure in citing in orders the following named officers and men, First Sergt: Leo Fox, who have shown marked gallantry and meritorious service during the advance of this division against the enemy from July 18 to 25, 1918 in the second battle of the Marne." Word has also been recently received that his brother, Edward Fox, who has been at Camp Upton, N. Y., for the past three months, has been promoted to the rank of corporal.

SUITS FOR $60,000

Woman Brings Action

Against George Landers,

New Bedford Ex-Mayor

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 20.—Two suits for damages aggregating $60,000 have been filed against George M. Landers, a wealthy manufacturer and former mayor of New Britain by Miss Belle M. Beatty of this city. One action alleges breach of promise and the other $50,000. In the other $10,000 she is asked for acting as housekeeper in this city from April, 1913, until April, 1917.

Landers was divorced by his wife recently and Miss Beatty was named in the suit. The former Mrs. Landers is now the wife of Percy Parson of the United States medical service. She has had four husbands, all members of the same Yale class.

Landers is one of the best known democratic politicians in Connecticut.

NEW YORK CITY BARS RED FLAG

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Following the issuance yesterday of emergency orders to the New York police, directing them to prevent public display of the red flag, and the introduction in the board of aldermen of a resolution which would permanently prohibit its display, the National Security League announced last night that the fight against the "emblem of antagonism to law and order" would be extended throughout the country.

The order to the police, issued by Mayor Hylan at the instance of the National Security League, was the result of a riot here last week, when soldiers broke up a parade in which red flags were prominently displayed.

EDUCATIONAL CLUB

The Educational club held a meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A. Following the regular business meeting, one of the members read a very interesting paper on Palestine. An original poem by Mr. Dickenson of Billerica was read by Mrs. Harlow. There will be an address by Edgar Dickenson of Billerica at the next meeting, which will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 25, and it is hoped that all the members will attend.

has submitted an interesting report to Mayor Thompson of the work done by the league during the recent influenza epidemic.

In its appreciation is extended for the cordial co-operation of the mayor and the helpfulness of various organizations including the staff of the District Nursing association, members of the board of health and others.

The following resume of the work done by the league during the epidemic will give a good idea of what was done by the organization:

No. of convents in which sisters volunteered their services..... 9

No. of sisters engaged in relief work..... 101

No. of days of service at sisters' at isolation hospital..... 13

No. of families reported by the Guild and other sources and cared for by the sisters..... 715

Total number of cases cared for by sisters..... 1156

Total number of visits made by sisters..... 4165

The work of the sisters was not restricted to nursing the sick. They also cared for the homes, provided and prepared food for families and furnished clothing and fuel when necessary.

Entire days were spent in some homes and when there was no one to care for the sick during the night, the sisters remained.

Letters From Lowell Soldiers

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Chamberlain have received a letter from their nephew, Corp. Frank P. Scanlon, of the 301st Supply Train Company, who has evidently been wounded, according to his letter. The letter, in part, is as follows:

Somewhere in France, October 16, 1918.
My Dear Aunt:—Just a few lines to let you know I am well, and that I received your most welcome letter and was glad to hear that all the folks at home are well. I understand that Lowell had quite a turn out Labor day. It must have been a nice sight, but I haven't anything on what we see, as we witness interesting sights and also pitiful sights as well. We are now away up in the mountains about three thousand feet above sea level and it is pretty cold here. We have to wear our heavy winter clothing and are having some very uncertain weather, raining, snowing, some part of the day and perhaps another part cold and stormy. We have been kept on the go for some time, jumping from one place to another, and have been located away up in the mountains, where it is quite lonesome at times. I think we will be here for a while, hope so anyway, as we would like a little rest.

The roads are very narrow, and we have quite a time dodging shell holes. We go to sleep with our rifles and the cannon and get up with the same signals. I haven't been doing much for about a month on account of my accident as my hip and knee is quite sore and stiff yet. I was out for a little while the other day and it was a short one, for I could not walk very well, but I am feeling much better now and guess I won't be long until I am able to be out with the boys. We have had hard luck, as we lost two of our sergeants and one of our lieutenants.

We are getting plenty to eat and the water here is very good. The scenery is about all that is good here, as the people and the buildings are very old-fashioned and away behind the times. All we see is ditches and jaunting carts, and some of the buildings are as old they are falling down. They can talk all they want about the old and its prettiness, but it isn't as good as the good old one. The people here are all wearing good shoes, even the boys, and in comparison with the American girls, they are not much to look at. They do not have such a thing as a dress, and have to use candles. It is quite hard to get them at times. Writing paper is very short here and we are in great need of it. Paper which we could buy at home for about 25 cents, costs about 15 francs, equal to $2.50 in American money. In fact everything is very high, as the French people think the American boys are very rich.

Well, I suppose you read of the great work the boys are doing. We expect to have a turkey dinner Thanksgiving day. That sounds good to us. Remember me to all your loving neighbors.

FRANK.
Edward J. Campbell

Mrs. Katherine G. Campbell, of 128 South street, has received an interesting letter from her son, Edward J. Campbell, who is stationed aboard the near the spot where the Titanic sank. There was fair weather on the whole, although it was a little rough at times. Camp was one of the crew that was on the U.S.S. Minnesota when it was torpedoed October 6, but fortunately all escaped. The bow of the ship was blown off by the torpedo. The men were able to go to Philadelphia on the ship's own steam to dry dock.

Private John J. Leonard
Mrs. J. Leonard has received several interesting letters from her son, first class private, John J. Leonard, who is in France with the 60th regiment, U.S. Infantry. Private Leonard was formerly employed by the Bay State Street Railway company. In a letter dated Oct. 9, he writes in part as follows:

Dear Mother:—I am well and hope you are all the same. I received several letters recently and glad to see that all the folks at home are well. I suppose you all would like to know where I am writing this letter. It is on a shell hole in the trench where the holes are about a foot apart. We use these to wash in and also to drink out of when water is scarce. But I guess the last shell hole has been made by the Hun here, for in the distance can be heard the booming of hundreds of American guns, driving him to his final resting place. The weather over here is starting to get cold and rainy, but it can't be much colder than Camp Devens was last winter so I guess I can stand it.

I'll try to bring home some souvenirs when I come back, but a soldier has so much luck to take care of his shell holes and an awful bother, so I'll not promise you. I suppose you were all glad when you heard that Bulgaria had been defeated. I also heard that the rest of the central powers want it also; it is only a question of time until they will collapse anyway, so I guess the boys will be home soon. We had a great treat yesterday afternoon—a regular Billy Sunday meeting. I suppose you have all heard of Billy Sunday's Sunday school. He has his trombone with him and he played and sang. He also gave us a nice talk and the part the boys liked best was when he said that the folks at home were preparing to welcome us home. It's pretty nice to have entertained like this on our side. He certainly makes it homelike. You said if we letters were censored coming over no, I don't think so. I think that all the folks are in good health.

Your loving son, JOHN J. LEONARD.

Sergeant John T. Hurley
Sergeant John T. Hurley, headquarters troop, 36th division, stationed at Camp Devens, has written his folks to a member of The Sun staff.

Nov. 15, 1918.
Dear Mother:—Just a few lines to let you know I am still in good health. I have been transferred since I wrote to you last. I am now in South Carolina. I've got some job, believe me. I don't have to work around all day on a horse and look wise.

Well, George, how is everything going in Lowell? I hope to be home for Christmas. Give my regards to all my friends, and tell them I will be home soon. I am in the same camp as when I was in South Carolina. I'll close with best of luck to you and my friends.

As ever, JOHN T. HURLEY.

Sergeant M. J. Connean

Sergeant M. J. Connean, a Lowell boy with the headquarters company of the 1st Brigade Coast Artillery Corps, who is stationed at a southern camp, has sent a copy of a letter which he addressed to a newspaper in Newport News, concerning the participation of a brigade of artillery in a victory celebration there last week, to a local friend. In it he protests against the action of citizens of Newport News in not paying proper respect to the soldiers and sailors who look part in the parade and also against a lack of respect for the flag.

To His Mother

The following tribute to the mothers of the boys "over there" was clipped from a Paris paper, dated October 17, and sent to Mrs. Alfred H. Knapp of 28 Forrest street by her son, Claude B. who is a member of Gen. Hodges' headquarters detachment, now overseas. Young Knapp left Camp Devens on July 7th, as a member of the Machine Gun division of the 302nd regiment. Shortly after arriving in the front line he was assigned to the headquarters detachment. In his letter to his mother, he explained that he was enjoying good health, and that the poem expressed his sentiments better than any words he could find. The poem is as follows:

MOTHER

By J. W.

Dear mother, when I read each tender phrase,

Each throbbing line of love you write to me,

My heart goes sad, and off I count the days

Until at last I shall sail o'er the sea.

Back, to you and home and all I love,

And once I cursed the fate that placed me here,

But, in a vision from above That steered my heart with patience, mother dear,

Before my thoughts were dark with fears

Of plans miscarried and of work un-done,

I heard faint echoes of the old home songs

And glimpsed your loving faces, one by one.

I knew my troubles—that I could not ease

I suffered at the worry in your heart.

I longed to rest my head upon your breast

And feel my bitter loneliness depart.

To me the war had brought out bitter-ness

Thanksgiving Day Proclamation Issued by Governor McCall Today

BOSTON, Nov. 20.—In a proclamation today, setting aside Thursday, Nov. 28, as Thanksgiving Day, Governor McCall declared there were peculiar reasons why the spirit of Thanksgiving should fill the hearts of the people.

"It is true that we have been visited by pestilence and that many of our young men have lost their lives in battle and all of us have felt very deep sorrow," the proclamation says. "But the visitation of the pestilence has been stayed and the war has been brought to a victorious end."

"One year ago the liberty of all nations was threatened by a colossal military autocracy whose arms were more than the centuries of warfare seemed everywhere victorious. Today that autocracy has been overthrown and the nations of the world again see stretching before them the paths of peace and freedom. We may devoutly unite our thanks with those of all other peoples. The results of victory it rightly husbanded, will usher a new order into the world. They will make more free and democratic the governments of all nations."

"The millions of brave men who lie beneath the battlefields will have died in vain unless we shall see to it that the controversies of nations shall not in the future be settled by such bloody armaments, and that every generation or two, millions of the brightest flower of the youth shall not be miserably sacrificed, in order to secure not the rule of right, but the rule of might. It is for us to establish the sway of the rule of reason in the government of the world, so that war shall be done away with."

Lowell Wins 9 to 6

Defeats Quincy in Good "Red" Williams Tops Scorers

Game—Harkins the Star—and Rushers—Harkins of Polo News

Lowell Second

Lowell defeated Quincy by the score of 9 to 6 in an exciting game of polo at the Crescent rink last night.

It was Quincy's first local game of the season and a large crowd turned out to greet the players, several of whom are old favorites here. Mossie Conley, goal tender and captain of the team, is very popular here. He's a great goal guardian, and while he worked hard, the fates were against him last night, and nine drives got by him. Jack Finnell, another Lowell favorite in the visitors' lineup, received a nice reception when he hopped into the cage, and he played his usual strong game. Fred Lincoln and George Hart, two fast men, were on the rush line for Quincy and they teamed up well. "Wild Charlie" Farrell at center was in old time form and swung his stick with considerable accuracy. The visitors' defensive play was O.K., but again the superior teamwork of the Lowell team, under the leadership of Harkins and Griffith, triumphed. Harkins was at his best and he turned in about as good an exhibition of polo as one would care to see. While he succeeded in scoring six of the nine Lowell goals, his combination work even excelled his driving ability. He took and gave passes with Griffith and Mulligan a machine, and the coordination was perfect. Mulligan is coming along with amazing speed, and he gave a splendid account of himself last night. Purcell was in rare form and his work made a big hit with all. At halfback Asquith had a very busy and successful night. He's a comer.

The first period ended 1 to 2 in Lowell's favor, Harkins getting three and Mulligan one, while Lincoln scored the two for the visitors. Lowell made it 8 to 4 in the second session, Harkins again counting three, while his teammates, Mulligan, registered once. Farrell and Hart were the Quincy scorers in this period. In the final period Mulligan got Lowell's ninth goal, while Farrell and Hart again counted for the visitors.

While German sailors laughed to see them die,

I saw a row of new-made baby graves

And distant aircraft sinking in the sky.

I saw the towns of desolated France.

The French were destroyed in senseless hate.

Oh, mother, these I saw as in a trance.

And others that my lips dare not utter.

Oh, think if we had lived in Belgium then!

If France had been our home! Oh, God on High,

To punish you the toy of brutish men.

Our home destroyed, my loved ones left to die!

I see—I see at last—the reason why

We must forget the little things of life.

And dry our tears and stifle every cry.

Whatever pain may issue from the strife.

Way we must battle on, with never a truce.

But Victory, now sure to crown the quest.

Until a silver Liberty is wrought

From out the old, which was so nearly lost!

My mother, cheer your heart and dry your tears.

For after while, God willing, I'll return.

We sacrifice today that, through the years,

We may enjoy the peace for which we fight.

Forget all cares, forget all minor things.

Today we labor and tomorrow rest!

We have for every mother as she sings

How baby sleep upon her throne—

We have for the Womanhood of Liberty.

"It is true that we have been visited by pestilence and that many of our young men have lost their lives in battle and all of us have felt very deep sorrow," the proclamation says. "But the visitation of the pestilence has been stayed and the war has been brought to a victorious end."

"One year ago the liberty of all nations was threatened by a colossal military autocracy whose arms were more than the centuries of warfare seemed everywhere victorious. Today that autocracy has been overthrown and the nations of the world again see stretching before them the paths of peace and freedom. We may devoutly unite our thanks with those of all other peoples. The results of victory it rightly husbanded, will usher a new order into the world. They will make more free and democratic the governments of all nations."

"The millions of brave men who lie beneath the battlefields will have died in vain unless we shall see to it that the controversies of nations shall not in the future be settled by such bloody armaments, and that every generation or two, millions of the brightest flower of the youth shall not be miserably sacrificed, in order to secure not the rule of right, but the rule of might. It is for us to establish the sway of the rule of reason in the government of the world, so that war shall be done away with."

Lowell Wins 9 to 6

Defeats Quincy in Good "Red" Williams Tops Scorers

Game—Harkins the Star—and Rushers—Harkins of Polo News

Lowell Second

Lowell defeated Quincy by the score of 9 to 6 in an exciting game of polo at the Crescent rink last night.

It was Quincy's first local game of the season and a large crowd turned out to greet the players, several of whom are old favorites here. Mossie Conley, goal tender and captain of the team, is very popular here. He's a great goal guardian, and while he worked hard, the fates were against him last night, and nine drives got by him. Jack Finnell, another Lowell favorite in the visitors' lineup, received a nice reception when he hopped into the cage, and he played his usual strong game. Fred Lincoln and George Hart, two fast men, were on the rush line for Quincy and they teamed up well. "Wild Charlie" Farrell at center was in old time form and swung his stick with considerable accuracy. The visitors' defensive play was O.K., but again the superior teamwork of the Lowell team, under the leadership of Harkins and Griffith, triumphed. Harkins was at his best and he turned in about as good an exhibition of polo as one would care to see. While he succeeded in scoring six of the nine Lowell goals, his combination work even excelled his driving ability. He took and gave passes with Griffith and Mulligan a machine, and the coordination was perfect. Mulligan is coming along with amazing speed, and he gave a splendid account of himself last night. Purcell was in rare form and his work made a big hit with all. At halfback Asquith had a very busy and successful night. He's a comer.

The first period ended 1 to 2 in Lowell's favor, Harkins getting three and Mulligan one, while Lincoln scored the two for the visitors. Lowell made it 8 to 4 in the second session, Harkins again counting three, while his teammates, Mulligan, registered once. Farrell and Hart were the Quincy scorers in this period. In the final period Mulligan got Lowell's ninth goal, while Farrell and Hart again counted for the visitors.

The score and summary.

While German sailors laughed to see them die,

I saw a row of new-made baby graves

And distant aircraft sinking in the sky.

I saw the towns of desolated France.

The French were destroyed in senseless hate.

Oh, mother, these I saw as in a trance.

And others that my lips dare not utter.

Oh, think if we had lived in Belgium then!

If France had been our home! Oh, God on High,

To punish you the toy of brutish men.

Our home destroyed, my loved ones left to die!

I see—I see at last—the reason why

We must forget the little things of life.

And dry our tears and stifle every cry.

Whatever pain may issue from the strife.

Way we must battle on, with never a truce.

But Victory, now sure to crown the quest.

Until a silver Liberty is wrought

From out the old, which was so nearly lost!

My mother, cheer your heart and dry your tears.

For after while, God willing, I'll return.

We sacrifice today that, through the years,

We may enjoy the peace for which we fight.

Forget all cares, forget all minor things.

Today we labor and tomorrow rest!

We have for every mother as she sings

How baby sleep upon her throne—

We have for the Womanhood of Liberty.

KAZANAS DIES IN JAIL

Lowell Man Serving Life Sentence Dies as Result of an Operation

As a result of an operation performed on him last Monday at the state prison in Charlestown, Athanasios Kazanas, who was serving a life sentence for the murder of James Barbagianios, which occurred in this city last January 21, died yesterday afternoon. His body was brought to the funeral parlors of Undertakers Joseph Albert & Son in Allen street.

It will be remembered that on Jan. 21, this year Barbagianios was shot through the abdomen by Kazanas after the pair had an argument in Maiden Lane, the victim of the shooting dying a few days later. In the course of the trial that followed the shooting it was brought out that the two men were friends up to the day of the shooting. Kazanas owned a small jewelry store in Maiden Lane, and while he was out, a party from Manchester arrived to buy a diamond ring. The owner's friend, Barbagianios, who was tending store for him, advised the Manchester party to go elsewhere. The owner when he returned, resented this and the two had some words. In the afternoon, they met in Market street, Barbagianios carrying a bundle, and after a few words, the latter laid down his package and made as if to attack the other, whereupon Kazanas drew a revolver, intending to shoot him in the leg, but Barbagianios caught him in such a manner as to deflect the ball into his own abdomen.

City Primaries

Warnock led Commissioner Brown by 54 votes.

Dennis A. Murphy was high man with a total vote of 3419. George E. Marchand came in under the wire for second money, polling a vote of 2397. James F. Miskella was third man with a slightly lower vote of 2318. Commissioner Warnock polled 2113 votes. Commissioner Brown, defeated, polled 2029 votes.

In the school committee fight Julian B. Keyes, a present incumbent, led the list with a vote of 4166, a margin of only 37 over Gardner W. Pearson. The other four nominees polled the following votes: William L. Crowley, 3457; James E. Lyle, 3427; Charles E. MacKenzie, 2695; Stephen E. Monahan, 2671.

Mr. Murphy's splendid vote as candidate for commissioner must have been most gratifying to him as it was his first appearance in municipal politics and he romped home with the honor of being high man. Messrs. Marchand and Miskella also polled substantial votes without excessive effort.

Following Mr. Brown in the defeated column were Edwin T. Shaw, John A. Myers, John A. Cotter, James H. Carmichael, Joseph J. Johnson and Alexander E. Rountree, who finished in the order named.

The school committee fight brought forth little more interest than the major contests. Mr. Keyes led the list and the other five nominees were fairly closely bunched. Messrs. Murphy, Welch, Shea and Waller, defeated, finished in the order named.

The vote by wards and precincts was as follows:
